

ArcGIS® for SharePoint®

Change the Way You Look at Your Data

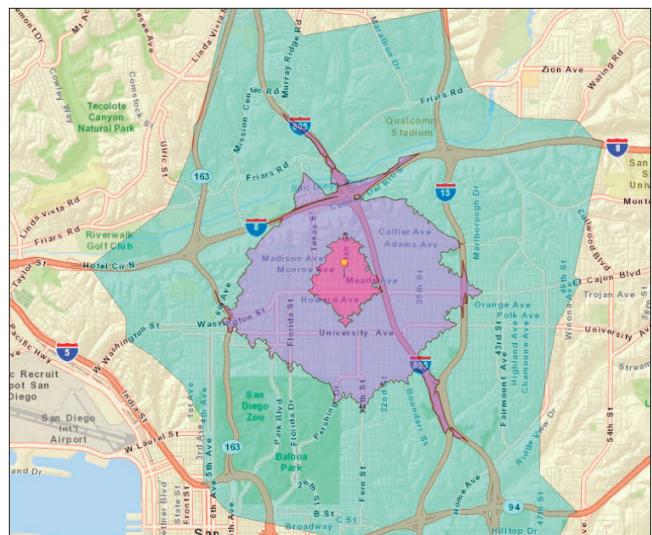

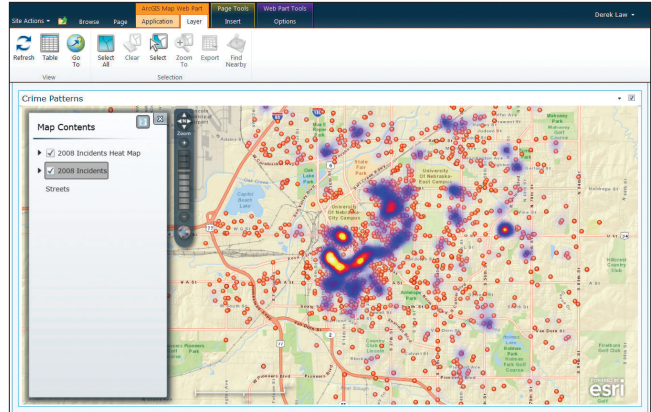

ArcGIS® for SharePoint® provides a robust set of configurable mapping components that allow you to visualize and analyze your business data on a map in Microsoft® SharePoint. No programming is required to quickly design and deliver a compelling visual representation of your information assets.

What You Can Do

ArcGIS for SharePoint will change the way you visualize and interact with your data.

- Create, edit, and share dynamic and interactive maps of your business data.
- Interact with tabular data and the map in SharePoint.
- Display SharePoint lists and document libraries, ArcGIS for Server map services, or Spatial Data Services on an interactive map.
- Use free online basemaps from ArcGIS™ Online or ArcGIS for Server.
- Geographically enable SharePoint list and document library items so they can be mapped.
- Configure map pop-up windows, heat maps, and clustering.
- Find items within a specified distance of point features.

ArcGIS for SharePoint works with the ArcGIS system and is available to most Esri customers free of charge. Contact your Esri sales representative for more information.

What's Included

ArcGIS for SharePoint runs on the Microsoft SharePoint 2010 framework as an out-of-the-box mapping solution.

- The Map Center, included in the Map Web Part, allows you to discover and open maps from ArcGIS Online.
- The ArcGIS geocoding workflow finds the geographic coordinates of addresses in SharePoint lists and document libraries.
- A lightweight Silverlight® extensibility API enables you to add custom wizards and controls to your application.
- The familiar SharePoint ribbon interface seamlessly integrates mapping into your environment.
- A customizable color scheme coordinates map themes with your organization's existing look and feel.
