The Environment Showcase is also home to humanitarian organizations that provide assistance to communities in need as they work to mitigate and adapt to a wide variety of environmental influences such as the effects of climate change, resource development, population growth, and human conflict.

The Environment Showcase hosts two demo theaters, the Environment Demo Theater and Conservation Demo Theater. Gain insight from real-world success stories. Search the online agenda to add sessions to your planner. Come early to hear from GIS innovators, world leaders, and industry trendsetters.
