Settlement Points: These settlement points were created using June 2026 Overture Maps Open Data (retrieved from https://registry.opendata.aws/overture). The settlement points contain estimated housing units derived from Address points and Building Footprint polygons. Departamento Administrativo Nacional de Estadística (DANE) Manzana Data and Overture Land Use and POI layers were used to enhance housing unit values and remove non-residential data.

Change Notes

Market Data are now projections for 2026 (previously 2024). The Purchasing Power and Consumer Spending projections in national currency for 2026 show a significant upward trend due to inflation. Please note that the deviations observed in the values for product groups CS13 to CS16 this year are due to a redefinition of these categories. Due to these changes, comparisons with the last edition are not possible in these groups.

The new settlement points are an improvement over the previous points [2023 European Commission Global Human Settlement Layer (GHSL) 100 meter population raster grid data]. The housing unit points and values used for apportionment of the data are more accurate and more granular than the previous points and this may significantly alter the results for small trade areas and trade areas along the edges of urban areas.

Other Data Notes
