

Esri Transportation eBrief

WeGo Public Transit Makes Services More Accessible

Maps are helping Nashville Metropolitan Transit Authority (Nashville MTA) improve customer relations within disadvantaged communities and more intelligently and adaptively implement future services.

Read More

How to Return Ridership to Peak Levels

Public transit agencies are leveraging advanced data and insight to understand ridership and changing behaviors.

Read More →

Washington, DC, Pursues Equity and Transparency in Vision Zero Campaign

The District Department of Transportation (DDOT) used ArcGIS Hub to consolidate information on current and upcoming traffic safety projects for insight into crash data, road improvement projects, and demographic data.

Read More

Inspiring Stories from the 2023 CIO Summit

How Raleigh, NC, Is Leveraging Digital Twins and AI to Improve Traffic Conditions and Prepare for Growth

Whether it be digital twin, equity, real-time operations, or artificial intelligence, the city is innovating and succeeding with new approaches to GIS use across its organization.

See the Story
→

Informing Resilience Planning with Accessible Climate Data

Explore the ready-to-use data and tools that will help your organization prepare for climate impacts.

See the Story
→

LAST CHANCE TO REGISTER

UC 2023

July 10-14, 2023 | San Diego, CA