

Take control over your ArcGIS® Server with the Geocortex Administrator Bundle

The Geocortex Administrator Bundle combines two powerful tools to give you unprecedented visibility and control over the apps you build for ArcGIS Server.

Geocortex Analytics: This state-of-the-art GIS monitoring solution gives you a complete picture of your ArcGIS deployment and how it is used.

- Quickly identify issues with your applications and troubleshoot them (often before your users even know there is a problem);
- Examine changes over time to discover trends and usage patterns; and
- Build dashboards and reports to keep track of how your GIS is performing.

Geocortex Access Control: This fine-grained-permissions management solution allows you to take control of who is using your ArcGIS Server apps and how.

- Authorize access to visible and/or editable layers, fields, and features;
- Control and change access based on a user's role; and
- Provide targeted content to specific users to keep them organized and on track (potentially reducing the total number of ArcGIS Server apps and services you must maintain).

These tools are at their best when deployed together, so to celebrate the 2020 Esri User Conference, we're offering 25% off the Geocortex Administrator Bundle. Visit www.geocortex.com for more info.
